The Way to Help Your Town

We do not know who wrote the following or when it was written, but the advice in it is so pertinent that we cannot refrain from republishing it:

Never forget you are a part of the town and that your own deportment helps to make up the stranger's estimate of the place. Sell all you can and buy all you can at home. Every dollar that is spent or carried away from home makes the town that much poorer. If you have the means invest in something that will give somebody employment. Do not kick at a proposed improvement simply because it is not at your door.

Ask for Sonoma lager. It is the beer that will make Sonoma famous.

Sonoma County's Population Is Now 48,394

According to the figures given out by the census bureau the present population of Sonoma county is 48,494. This is a gain of 25.8 per cent over the figures of 1900, when the county was credited with a population of 38,480. This in turn was an increase of 17.6 per cent over the figures of 1890, when the figures showed that we had a population of 32,721.

While the per cent of increase may not be not so great as that of some of the other counties of the state, the steady increase shown by the figures is indicative of the prosperity of the county and is a matter of which all its residents are proud.

The figures for the state are 2,377,549, an increase of 882,496 or 70.1 per cent. This gives the state four new congressmen under the present apportionment.

Los Angeles county shows the largest per cent of increase with 196.0 per cent. Stanislaus is second with 136.7 per cent, while Kern, the oil county, is a close third with 128.8 per cent.

Alpine, the county with the smallest population in the state, shows the largest per cent of decrease with 39.2 per cent. Trinity is second with 24.7 per cent and Amador is third with a decrease of 18.2 per cent. In fact all the mountain and mining counties show a decrease, while the agricultural and fruit belts make up the state's increase of population.

Foreign Dealers Want California Wines

The shortness of the Italian and French vintages this season is resulting in inquiries from foreign wine merchants for California wines. Andrea Sharbora of the Italian-Swiss Wine company stated last week that tentative offers have been exchanged with Italian firms, but that freight rates, duties and fees make the price of wine almost prohibitive.

"Italy and France have had poor grape crops this year," said Mr. Sbarbora, "which accounts for the inquiries. Our whole California crop would hardly suffice to supply the city of Turin, for instance, but as to quality we are making far finer wines."

Other wine growers say there is constantly better demand for wine in the United States and this will keep our vineyards busy tickling the home palate. They scout the idea of shipping large quantities abroad, except in years of dearth in wine producing countries.

Grading for the New Railroad

The Santa Rosa & Clear Lake Construction Company, which has the contract for the grading of the Santa Rosa & Clear Lake railroad between Santa Rosa and Clear Lake in Lake county, has already begun work.

Four miles of the trail over the mountain between Kellogg and Middletown has already been cut, while half a mile of the full width roadbed has been graded on the mountain side and for another half mile the timber has been cut and the stumps cleared away ready for the graders.

Sub-contracts have been let for the grading of the line from Santa Rosa to the summit of the mountains on the county line between Sonoma and Lake counties. Every effort will be made to rush the work, so that the grading will be completed within the twenty months called for in the contract.

Election Contests Probable

A statement was made Monday that W. H. Early of Petaluma is preparing papers for two election contest suits in the superior court and that the complaints will be filed in a few days.

One of the contests will be between Superintendent of Schools Montgomery and Miss Florence M. Barnes, superintendent-elect, who, according to the official canvass, had a majority of forty-five. The other rumored contest will be between Former Sheriff Sam Allen and C. T. Snow over the office of justice of the peace of Analy township, Allen having beaten Snow by two votes.

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Brown of Hessell station was drowned last Tuesday in a small stream of water which runs in front of the Brown home. The stream at the present time contains only eight inches of water and it is presumed the child fell and was unable to recover himself.

The brooding machines will be started next Tuesday and in the intervening weeks and months prior to March Mr. Sales expects to be very busy.—Press-Democrat.

It is reported upon the best authority that Congressman Duncan E. McKinlay of the second district is to receive the appointment as assistant postmaster general under his friend Hitchcock. It is understood McKinlay was not anxious to serve as surveyor of the port of San Ffancisco, but has indicated his gratification at the proposed transfer to a post where he can reside in Washington.

A new weekly paper to be known as The Saturday Bee will make its debut in Santa Rosa on December 31. It will be eight pages, printed on colored paper—pink and green, and Billy Silver will be the publisher. Publisher Silver announces that the Saturday Bee is to be an up-to-date publication. Among its features will be local comic cartoons. There will be a joke column and other entertaining matter.

One by one the pioneers who endured the hardships of a trip across the plains in the days of gold are passing into the great beyond which living man has never explored. On Tuesday of last week John Finley, who for fifty-eight years has been a resident of Sonoma county, died at his home at Graton. He was eighty-eight years of age and had led a very active life. Away back in '52 Mr. Finley first came to Sonoma county. He settled near Bloomfield and later went into the Bodega section to make his home. There he lived until a short time ago, when he moved to Graton.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance for advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write for fulldetails.

BATTLE OF THE CORRESPONDENTS

Justitia slapped Vox Populi,
And old Vox hit him in the eye;
Then Veritas picked up a chair,
And threw it at One Who Was There.
Pro Bono Publico arose
In wrath and smashed Inquirer's nose,
While Fair Play doubled up his fist
And whaled away at Suffragist.
In bold defiance of the law
Vindex slugged Nemo on the jaw.
Then Pax Vobiscum, with a roar,
Slammed Old Subscriber to the floor,
And Quidnunc, quicker than a wink,
Put Constant Reader on the blink.
Then Many Voters took a hand,
And soon had all the others canned.
—Chicago Tribune.

IT IS SAID that Long Island has a "wild man" who steals quantities of eggs from the farmers, whereat a facetious exchange remarks: "With eggs at 50 cents a dozen and going up he may be wild, but he isn't crazy."

A NEW YORC damsel complains that she cannot go upon the stage because she has no clothes. To which the Kansas City Journal remarks: "A poor excuse. The demand for chorus girls this season is unusually active."

STOCKHOLDERS' ANNUAL MEETING

Sonoma Brewing Co. Elects New Directors—Free From Debt —Has a Fine Business.

The first annual meeting of the Sonoma Brewing Coompany was held in Woodman Hall last Tuesday evening and was largely attended by those having an interest in the enterprise.

The meeting, which was a most harmonious one, after listening to the reading of the annual reports of Secretary Beretta and Treasurer Granice, elected the following nine directors to serve for the ensuing year: John Steiner, H. H. Granice, A. Beretta, Norman J. Heggie, Fred Batto, F. Nichelini, A. Froment and Joseph Felder. All the newly elected directors were members of the old board except Mr. Felder, who was nominated by H. P. Mathewson, the retiring member, who declined to serve longer, as the duties of the office interfered with his law practice. However, he will continue to act as attorney for the board.

The reports of the officers showed the affairs of the brewery to be in splendid condition. It is free from debt and has assets of $72,970.44.

The history of the Sonoma Brewing Company, which was incorporated less than a year ago, would make interesting reading. Its incorporators and stockholders are all local people and every cent invested in the enterprise is essentially local capital.

Ground was broken for its new building last December, and from that time up to June $1,000 per month was expended by the corporation for labor alone. The brewery, building, machinery, cold storage rooms, tankage, bottling house and everything connected with the establishment are up-to-date, and among brewers it is said to be one of the best equipped brewing and ice plants for its size in all California.

The products of the brewery, both steam and lager beer, as well as ice, are rapidly coming into favor. Particularly is this so of the lager beer product, which is pronounced by connoisseurs to be the equal of the high priced beers being imported into the state from St. Louis, Milwaukee and other eastern cities.

This enterprise will give employment to the heads of six families during the winter months and twice that number during the summer months.

The installation of a creamery plant in connection with the brewery is being seriously considered by the directors, as the brewery was built and equipped with machinery with that end in view, and it is more than probable that a creamery will be put into operation next fall.

Free Vegetable Seed

United States Senator Frank P. Flint has sent this office a mail bag of vegetable seed for free distribution. The collection consists of beans, beet, lettuce, radish, tomato, carrot, cucumber, onion and raddish. Parties desiring a package of these seed will please call at this office.

TRADES SCHOOL SITE NOT FOR US

Commission Turns Down Sonoma Valley Proposition and Chooses Knights Valley.

The commission appointed by an act of the last legislature to select a site for the proposed California Trades and Training school and which recently visited the Wickersham ranch near this city and looked it over, has turned this valley down. It will recommend the purchase by the state of the Knights Valley site in the northern part of the county.

The failure of the commission, which is composed of Governor Gillett, Secretary of State Curry, Attorney General Webb, Senator Curtin and Assemblyman Hawk, to favor the Sonoma Valley site is no surprise to us. It will be recollected that during the last campaign the Men's League of this city was bitterly opposed politically to Governor Gillett, Secretary of State Curry and State Senator Walter F. Price and other regular Republicans because they took no stock in the Lincoln-Roosevelt League business inaugurated throughout the state by a lot of hungry politicians who were yearning to feed at the public crib.

The influence of the league in this place and Petaluma encompassed the defeat of Senator Price for re-election to the state senate, and this together with the league's general attitude during the campaign toward the administration of Governor Gillett has been the main cause of Sonoma Valley losing this splendid public improvement.

The senator, although not a member of the commission, is not without influence in Sacramento, and it was he no doubt who landed the prize for Knights Valley, which is also located in his senatorial district. And who can blame him?

Thus did Sonoma Valley get it where the chicken got it—in the back of the neck.

A. Seymour Brown and Nat D. Ayer, two of our youngest song writing teams, have written a song that appeals to all that love military or brass band music. The song describes the feelings of a youth marching down the street as a spectator while a regiment of soldiers, headed by a large military band are leaving town for an encampment. The song is imbued with the true spirit of the martial instinct that man possesses, and the melody lingers in your memory. The song is at present very popular with the Army of the Boy Scouts, who sing as they march to the music of the song, which is entitled "Band, Band, Band." The following is the chorus:

When I hear a Military Band,
There is something I can't understand,
There is something makes me feel so grand.
Wish I had a musket in my hand,
Ev'rytime I hear the Dixie strain
Seems to me as if I'll go insane.
I think I have music on the brain,
And it's Band, Band, Band.

SOME DAY

Some day this heart will case to beat; some day these worn and weary feet will tread the road no more; some day this hand will drop the pen and never, never write again those rhymes which are a bore. And some time, when the stars swing low and mystic breezes come and go, with music in their breath, I think of Destiny and Fate, and try to contemplate this bogie man called Death. Such thinking does not raise my hair; my cheerful heart declines to scare or thump against my vest; for Death, when all is said and done, is but the dusk, at set of sun, the interval of rest. But times of sorrow mark my brow when I consider that my frau, when I have ceased to wink, will have to face a crowd of gents who're selling cheap tin monuments and headstones made of zinc. And crayon portrait sharks will come and make the house with language hum, and ply their deadly game; they will enlarge my photograph, attach a hand-made epitaph and put it in a frame. They'll hang that horror on the wall, and then, when neighbors come to call; they'll view my crayon head, and wipe sad tears from either eye, and lean against the chairs and cry "How fortunate he's dead."

More New Comers

That Sonoma Valley is rapidly increasing in population no better evidence is wanted than the fact that our large ranches are being cut up into small holdings and disposed of to new settlers. The result has been that the valley surrounding Sonoma is dotted on all sides with small farms and chicken ranches. The latest arrivals to our valley are Messrs. Henry Hansen and George Malschow, who have purchased a tract of land south of town from E. H. Johnson, which they will devote to poultry raising and small farming. The new owners have already commenced the erection of a cottage and outbuildings and other improvements will follow.

Mass will be celebrated at St. Francis church, Sonoma, at 8:45 a. m., and at Glen Ellen at 10:45 a. m.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES.

Doings of the Various Sets in Both Town and Valley.

Ed Goepfert of San Francisco was in town Sunday visiting friends.

Nick Dowdall of El Verano, accompanied by his little son, visited Santa Rosa Thursday.

Adam Yenni of Sacramento was the guest of his brother, P. Yenni, several days this week.

Road Overseer A. D. Graham of Boyes was in Santa Rosa last Tuesday discussing road matters with the supervisors.

President Frank M. Burris of the Sonoma Valley Bank returned to his Santa Rosa home Thursday morning after a short stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koenig of the Union Hotel spent several days this week in San Francisco and Alameda county. They arrived home Monday evening.

Rev. Mr. Gould of Fresno will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All members and friends of the church are invited to be present.

Jessie Burris, cashier of the Sonoma Valley Bank and a director of the Santa Rosa Bank, spent several days the latter part of the week in Santa Rosa on business connected with his banking interests.

A personal letter from Dr. O. Eastland, former proprietor of the Yellow Front drug store, says that he is enjoying a well-earned rest in the metropolis, where he has taken his residence temporarily. He greatly regrets his health compelled him to dispose of his interests here where has many friends who will miss him. The doctor expects after a rest of several months to regain his former vigor and be able to engage in business again.

Farmers Still Holding Their Hay

The report of Somers & Co. of San Francisco on the condition of the hay market for the week ending December 6 says;

"There has been a still further decrease in arrivals of hay, as shown by the week's arrivals amounting to 1,944 tons. The same difficulty in disposing of hay exists, and therefore prices show no change. During the month just passed there were 14,381 ton brought to San Francisco, whereas a year ago in November there were but 11,914 ton, and it is therefore quite remarkable to note that the market has been able to absorb this quantity of hay with trade conditions as quiet as they now are.

"The recent rain has given some encouragement to farmers, but it is the general opinion that there has not been enough rain to warrant holders of hay in disposing of their stock. and therefore the conditions still exist that it is impossible to buy hay generally and market it at any margin of profit. It is now generally conceded that it will not be until spring until the farmers seek to market their holdings, and therefore, in all probability, the present condition of affairs exist until that time, when undoubtedly we will see a lowering in prices unless something happens to create a demand for the large stocks of hay now in the country."

FORMER PIONEER RESIDENT DIES

John Ludeman, for Many Years Engaged in Businesss Here, Passed Away Tuesday.

John Ludeman, who conducted a prosperous cooperage business here in the hey-day of the grape and wine industry of the Sonoma Valley twenty-five and thirty years ago, died in Santa Rosa last Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock of pneumonia.

In full possession of his mental faculties he battled with the grim monster until the very last moment and expired with the declaration on his lips, "I will not die." But pneumonia, which claims for its victims the strongest and most robust of our fellows, won out and poor John Ludeman's tongue was stilled forevermore.

In the eighties John Ludeman took a prominent part in the affairs of this city. He served one term as city trustee and was one of the charter members of the Sonoma volunteer fire department and served for a number of years as assistant chief of the department under the late Charley Engelbert.

With the waning of the wine industry in this valley the cooperage business ceased to be a profitable one here and about ten years ago the deceased moved to Santa Rosa and engaged in the cooperage business in that city.

John Ludeman leaves a wife and family of grown children who reside in San Francisco. Mrs. Julius Fochetti, Sr., of this place is a sister of the deceased, who was a native of Germany and 64 years of age.

The remains were brought to this place for interment in Mountain Cemetery Thursday, the funeral being largely attended by relatives and old-time friends and acquaintances.

Woman's Club Notes

At the regular business meeting of the woman's club last Friday an offer was received from Mr. Castex of the earth he is to excavate for his new building, provided the club would pay to have it hauled to the north side of the plaza where the new lawn is to be planted. The offer was at once accepted and a committee appointed to attend to it.

The attention of the club having been drawn to a growing need in our increasing population for a more organized method of attending to certain benevolences a committee was appointed to gather information with the object of establishing a permanent board of relief.

The members of the club are all urgently requested to make at least one (more if possible) evergreen wreath and bring it to Union Hall Saturday morning, Dec. 31, for the ball decorations. Barrel hoops are suggested for forms.

Next Friday afternoon a paper is to be read by Miss Trueblood, while Christmas music will be rendered by the choir of the Congregational church. Mrs. Robert Poppe will be the hostess of the afternoon and quotations will be asked for from the writings of Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

MOTOR CYCLE JUMPS TRACK

Two Southern Pacific Trackmen Have Narrow Escape—Third Is Seriously Injured.

As the south-bound Southern Pacific afternoon passenger train was speeding along the track Thursday it was flagged just before reaching Glen Ellen and brought to a sudden stop.

Alongside the track lay an overturned railroad motor cycle and nearby lay T. H. Fisher, a track inspector. He was unconscious and evidently seriously injured. He was being cared by Bridge Inspector Robinson and Roadmaster Crawford, and it was they who brought the train to a standstill. The injured man was carried into the baggage car and taken to his home in Vallejo for surgical aid. The extent of his injuries could not be learned, but they were evidently of a serious nature, as the man was limp and utterly helpless.

It appears that while Track Inspector Fisher and his companions were speeding along the rails on their machine it suddenly left the track and the three men were hurled with great force down a steep embankment. Messrs. Robinson and Crawford fortunately escaped injury, but not so with Fisher, who lay where he fell. His companions went to his assistance, and as the afternoon train was due to pass in a few moments preparations were made to flag it.

The incident created quite a furore on the train, many of the passengers imagining a man had been run down by the locomotive and killed.

Latest accounts from the Fisher home in Vallejo are that he will recover.

Building Activity

That Sonoma is going ahead with a rush no better evidence is wanting than the scene of building activity that has now characterizes Napa street east of the postoffice building. Ground is being broken for new buildings on both sides of the street. One of these will be erected by Andre Castex. It will be of white stone and will be rented for store and office purposes. The other will be built by the Duhring-Ryland Co. as a show house. With the completion and occupancy of these new buildings, and tenants have already been secured for both, the Napa street block bounded by First and Second streets east will put on quite a business aspect. For years this part of Sonoma has been looked upon as a residence section, but it is only a question of time until the entire block must give way for business purposes if the town continues to grow as it has been growing the past few years.

Concrete Bridge for El Verano

Supervisor Blair Hart is having a concrete bridge built across the small creek opposite the Hackmier corner, El Verano, to replace the ancient wooden affair which has long since outlived its usefulness. The new structure, which will cost the county $265, is being built by contract by William Trudgen of this place. When completed it will not only be an ornament to the town, but will endure for all time without cost for repairs. Thus it is that one by one the old wooden bridges of Sonoma Valley are giving away to the more modern and less expensive stone and concrete structures, thanks to the good judgment of one of the best supervisors Sonoma and Glen Ellen townships ever had, carping critics to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Burke Case

The jury to try the case of the People vs. Dr. W. P. Burke was finally selected in Judge Seawell's department of the superior court late Wednesday afternoon. The jury is composed of Thomas H. Baines, El Verano; Steve A. Mache, Valley Ford; G. R. Rickman, Healdsburg; J. H. Oetjen, Petaluma; J. P. Bline, Santa Rosa; N. L. Wiswell, Preston; Frank Ross, Santa Rosa; Ira Gates, Santa Rosa; Fred Roussau, Cazadera; W. L. Proctor, Occidental; W. H. Irwin, Santa Rosa; George H. Hall, Cloverdale.

The trial will no doubt be a long and tedious one and it goes without saying that the victims for jury service will earn their $2 per day, alright.

CITY TRUSTEES IN DECEMBER SESSION

Discuss a Rock-Crushing Plant, a Carnegie Library Building and Other Wise Measures.

The City Trustees met in regular monthly session Wednesday evening. All the members were present and took a remarkable interest in matters pertaining to the growth of a New Sonoma. Among these was a municipal rock crushing plant, a Caregie library building, the betterment of our sidewalks and streets, the septic tank sewer system and sewer farm. The latter improvement has already been provided for by a bond election which was carried almost unanimously, while the library building and rock crushing plant will no doubt be forthcoming during the coming year.

The minutes of the previous meeting having been read by Clerk Gottenberg and approved by Mayor Cummings and Trustees Wagnon, McDonell, Quartaroli and Dal Poggetto, the following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

R. Quartaroli, labor, $33.00; L. Breitenbach, services, $5.00; Sonoma City Water Works Co., water, $15.00; Jas. H. Albertson, salary, etc., $15.55; E. H. Johannsen, services, $14.00; Mrs. L. Quartaroli, services, $27.00; Sonoma City Water Works Co., $10.50; O. Eastland, mdse., $2.75; W. J. Russell, labor, $2.00; Al. Kerner, labor, $20.00; Sonoma Valley Co., electric lights, $46.80; H. Castagnasso, teaming, $13.00; R. E. Perkins, experting books, $40.00; Wm. Trudgen, labor, $37.50; M. Cummings, expenses, $48.75; H. W. Gottenberg, salary, etc., $16.97; J. B. Parrent, $1.00. Total, $346.52.

The bills having been disposed of the contract for electric lights was renewed with the Valley Company for another month.

The application of Paul Robin for a retail liquor license was granted without opposition.

On motion of Trustee Wagnon, seconded by Trustee McDonell, a certified copy of a quit claim deed executed by the Board of Supervisors to the City of Sonoma to a strip of land in the D. Boggiano tract, recently purchased by the city for a sewer farm, was referred to City Attorney Poppe.

On motion, Mayor Cummings was appointed a committee of one to confer with the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club on matters pertaining to plaza improvement and report at the next adjourned meeting.

The Trustees then adjourned to meet at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, December 15th.

Carnegie Library Building.

The erection of a Carnegie library building on a portion of Sonoma's eight-acre plaza was informally discussed by the City Trustees at their moeting Wednesday evening. It was shown during the discussion that the erection of a library building not to exceed $5,400 in cost on land already owed by the city on the Carnegie plan would entail no additional taxation for maintenance, as the present public library tax will easily meet all the requirements imposed upon the city for a library building not exceeding that sum. If this be so, let us have the building by all means as the city will actually be getting something for nothing, to say nothing of putting into practical use a portion of Sonoma's big white elephant—an eight-acre plaza in a one-acre town.

An Eating House Which Is a Credit to Sonoma

Ered Leidecker, the well-known caterer who recently leased the old City Hotel property which had been allowed to run down by a less enterprising landlord, has converted the building into a first class restaurant which is really a credit to Sonoma. In all its appointments this new eating house will compare favorably with any restaurant north of the metropolis and is in keeping with the Sonoma that is to be.

Holiday Closing Movement.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening it was decided to appeal to the business men of the town to support a general legal holiday closing movement. With that object in view a petition has been drawn up and will be circulated among the business houses for signatures pledging the signers to close their respective places of business on all the legal holidays.

MUNICIPAL ROCK CRUSHING PLANT.

The City Dads Have Taken the Matter Up and May Install a Plant Next Year.

At a meeting of the City Trustees held Wednesday evening the question of equipping and maintaining a municipal rock-crushing plant was discussed. It was the sense of the Board that this much necessary adjunct to the city ought to be forthcoming and should be in operation as soon as the septic tank sewer has been completed, which will be some time next summer, in order to put the streets in good shape again. The idea is a splendid one and ought to be carried out by all means. The cost will be slight and the rock-crusher will pay for itself in less than two years.

HUNTING THE WALRUS.

The Eskimo Takes Advantage of the Animal's Curiosity.

In his frail skinboat it is a difficult and dangerous task for the Eskimo to go out to sea forty to sixty miles and intercept the walrus as he passes on his migration into the Arctic.

One carcass will fill his boat, for it weighs from 1,000 to 3,000 pounds. He hunts the walrus when they are lying asleep on the ice floes in herds from ten to several hundred. Death must be instantaneous, else with a few rolls or the peculiar lumbering, humping movement (seen of the seal when ashore), he makes the few feet to the water and then is lost, as he has not sufficient blubber and air to float. He has much natural curiosity, and if not scared by shots will come up close to your boat or the ice floe on which you are sitting, spurting, snorting and rolling his eyes; with his gleaming tusks and bristled snout he has an uncanny, goblin, monster-like appearance. A herd of fifty or sixty of them will come up en masse, raise high out of the water to stare at you, then snort, spurt and disappear again, only to come up on the same spot and repeat the maneuver indefinitely. Taking advantage of this the Eskimos hide behind ice hummocks and throw a harpoon into one, then snub the tough rawhide line around an ice cake. He must perforce come up to blow, and he is then killed with the rifle. The thick skin and the mass of blubber and meat beneath render him almost invulnerable.—Pacific Monthly.

MAKE THEM LAUGH.

A Bachelor's Idea of the Way Children Should Be Trained.

"The people who don't have to do things can always do them better than the people who are obliged to do them," said the cynical bachelor. "If you want to know how to invest money, ask a fellow who has never had any to invest. I suppose it's the same with raising children. Nevertheless, I am fond of children, and never having had an opportunity of raising any of my own, I am critical about the way other people, more fortunate than I, raise theirs.

"My brother has a youngster, a boy about six years old, and everything that kid wants he cries for. The minute he begins to cry he gets it, which, according to my reasoning, is all wrong.

"Why not make him laugh for it? It's just as easy for a child to laugh as to cry, and it's far more healthful, besides being much more cheerful for the surrounding populace.

"I've tried the experiment with him, and it works like a charm. If I happen to have anything he wants, and he cries for it, I make fun of him. 'That isn't the way to get it,' I say. 'Don't cry for it. Laugh for it.'

"It took only about two lessons for him to understand this, and you have no idea what a wonderful difference it has made in the disposition of that kid. Still, I'm only an old bachelor, and I'm not supposed to know anything about such things."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Took an Unfair Advantage.

Mrs. Dorkins — Yesterday I called Mrs. Grundage's attention to the fact that she had left the gate between our back yards open and that her chickens had come through and scratched up our flower beds, and she looked as if she would have liked to bite my head off. How foolish it is for people to get angry when you remind them that they have been careless about something they had no business to overlook!

Mr. Dorkins—I am glad to hear you say that, Maria. You won't mind if I mention that when I came home last night I found that you'd left both the back doors unlocked.

Mrs. Dorkins — Yes; you're always watching to see if you can't catch me in some little fault, and it makes you perfectly happy when you do!—New York Tribune.

Something to Live For.

Three little girls were playing. The mother of one came into the room and engaged the children in conversation. "Marian, what are you going to be when you grow up?" she asked.

"I am going to be a famous singer," she replied.

"And you, Susie, what are you to be?"

"Oh, I am going to write stories when I grow up," she answered.

"And what is Marjorie to be?" continued the mother.

Marjorie, aged five, thought seriously a moment, and then said, "Well, I am not sure, but I think I'll be a widow."—Delineator.

She Was Different.

"John," asked his wife, who was writing to one of her former schoolmates, "which is proper—to say, 'I differ from you' or 'I differ with you?'"

"Tell her you differ from her. I understand that she lets her husband keep part of his salary to have fun with himself."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Failure.

Mamma—What in the world is making the baby cry so, I wonder?" Little Eva—I guess he's mad 'cause I tried to make him smile with your glove stretcher.—Chicago News.

Domestic Difficulty.

Old Lady (turning to neighbor during last act of tragedy)—Eh, mister, but them 'Amlets 'ad a deal o' trouble in their family!—London Punch.

"Time enough" always proves little enough.—Franklin.

Pricked His Own Bubble.

This story, found in Rev. Dr. Henry H. Jessup's book, "Fifty-three Years in Syria," seems to indicate that religious vagaries are as short lived in the east as elsewhere. A friend of Dr. Jessup, visiting Jerusalem, met a queer looking solitary stranger pacing the streets of the city, accosted him, and after the usual greetings remarked:

"You are an American, I infer."

"Yes, I am," replied the queer looking man.

"And what are you doing here, if I may ask?"

"Ah, yes, I'm glad you asked. You see, I've come to preach the new doctrine, that there is to be no more death. If men will only accept it, we'll abolish death, and there'll be no more dying, nor graves, nor coffins, nor funerals. We shall just live right on."

"But," said Dr. Jessup's friend, "supposing you should sicken and die, what then?"

"Oh," said the man, "that would bust the whole thing!"

And it did. The poor delirious apostle died a few months later, and with him his "new doctrine."

Couldn't Think of It.

The handsome young plumber laid aside a piece of lead pipe and, approaching the beautiful kitchen maid, said:

"You look awful good to me."

"Go on; quit your kiddin'," she replied.

"But I mean what I say."

"I ain't got any time to listen to you now. Can't you see I'm busy?"

"Yes, but what's the use workin' when a fellow wants to make love to you? Say, if I make this job last so I can come back tomorrow will you have your work out of the way so we can talk things over? You're the purtiest girl I ever seen."

"If you think you can make a fool of me by such silly talk you're mistaken."

"But I mean every word I say. I want you to try to learn to love me."

"If you want to make love to me come around this evening. I'll be here."

"What! On my own time? What kind of a chump do you think I am?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Exact Thomas.

Thomas Hoar, the devoted servant upon whom Gilbert White, the English naturalist, depended to carry out his garden plans and to look after his comfort in many ways, was noted for his exactness. Mr. H. C. Shelley, in "Gilbert White and Selborne," gives an amusing illustration.

There was one occasion when Thomas came to report. "Please, sir, I've been and broke a glass."

"Broke a glass, Thomas! How did you do that?"

"I'll show you, sir," he rejoined as he disappeared for a moment. Returning with a glass in his hand, he let it fall on the floor, remarking:

"That's how I broke it, sir."

"There, go along, Thomas; you are a great fool," said his master, adding to himself, "and I was as great a one for asking such a foolish question."

Getting an Autograph.

A Munich boy of fourteen, who had seen and admired many of Rudolf von Seitz's paintings, was anxious to secure the painter's autograph, but did not know how to go about it. After much thought he wrote a letter, stating that he had sent a case of wine to the professor's address, and wanted to know whether it had been received. Thinking the matter of sufficient importance the painter did not write, but called at the address given, met the boy's mother, and the fraud soon became apparent. The boy was thoroughly scolded, and next day received this autograph note:

It often happens here on earth
That little rogues to great ones grow.
Some autographs for which you're trying
Can be procured without much lying.

Queer Looking Worms.

New Zealand, Australia, the Samoan and the Solomon islands as well as portions of the Hawaiian group are the homes of various species of worms with thick, heavy bodies and with a well defined neck connecting the body with a head that is a startling reminder of that of the monkey. In the Sandwich islands they are called "me-talu-ki," which means "creeper with a child's head." An old New Zealand legend says that at one time they were of immense proportions and threatened the extinction of all human life on the islands.

Irish Wit.

Swift scoffed at Irish "wit" in some biting lines. Nevertheless Irish wit is one of the most precious things. One soon has a surfeit of the professional funny man in England, the pawky Scot, the American humorist. The Irish peasant never disappoints, and with him it is all so naive and natural.—London Saturday Review.

Goodness and Greatness.

Goodness comes from within—from feelings, thoughts and desires resulting in actions. Greatness is the consequence of bold actions, great energy, ambition, enterprise and perseverance.

Impressed Her.

"You will never be able to make her believe that he is a liar.

"I wonder why?"

"I believe that he once told her she was beautiful."—Houston Post.

Integrity of life is fame's best friend.—John Webster.

The Pardon Paperweight.

Under the headline "A Queer Municipal Gift" a Vienna paper tells this story: "In the year 1869 a private soldier stationed at Sass killed an officer of his regiment and was condemned to be shot. Comrades who knew the extenuating circumstances, friends, priests, relatives—all pleaded in vain for mercy, the colonel in whose hands the matter rested insisting on the death penalty. The day came and the man was taken to the place of execution. Six members of his regiment, armed with rifles, one of which contained a blank cartridge, took their places as executioners. The man's eyes were bandaged and with arms securely pinioned he stood ready for the volley, shouting 'Comrades, aim well!' when a mounted courier dashed into the crowd waiving a white flag, crying 'Pardon!' He was Lieutenant Baron du Mont, with the colonel's pardon, which would have been useless had it arrived one minute later. The municipality secured the five bullets from the firing squad, had them silvered and mounted in the form of a tiny pyramid on a silver plate, and this, suitably inscribed, is known as the 'pardon paperweight,' the only one of its kind."

The Useful Crocodile Fish.

In the rivers and lakes of the Mexican state of Tabasco there swims a fish known as the "crocodile fish" which is most useful to man.

The skin of the crocodile fish, if properly cured, may be utilized for any of the purposes for which the lighter weights of leather are employed. The oil of the crocodile fish is a perfect lubricant and also used for softening leather. In addition to its qualities as a lubricant and emolient, the oil possesses medicinal qualities for which a superiority to the finest of Norwegian cod liver is claimed. The flesh of the crocodile fish is extensively used by the natives as food and highly relished by them as one of the delicacies of the country. Crocodile fish range in length from ten inches to four feet, and when dried assume an ashen hue, with lighter shadings of a bluish tint.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Poor Human Nature.

The woman who had succeeded in that rather difficult task—making a boarding house pay—was confiding to a friend some of the tricks of the trade.

"While you must never allow your boarders to get too far behind in their payments, it is also true that you will profit considerably by allowing them a little leeway. So long as you are sure of your money it pays a landlady to have her boarders a week or two behind in their board."

"I don't see that," interrupted her friend.

"Well, I'll tell you," continued the landlady. "When a man owes back board you have him at a certain disadvantage. Not one in a hundred under such circumstances has the nerve at mealtimes to ask for a second helping.—New York Times.

Suitable Game.

Uncle Jack came to visit the family just after Johnny had recovered from an attack of the whooping cough.

"How did you amuse yourself while you had it?" he asked.

"Me and another boy who had it played Indians and gave warwhoops," answered the little fellow.—Chicago News.

Plenty In Reserve.

A man who had been fighting got two black eyes. Next morning he met a friend, who exclaimed:

"Why, Jack, where have you been? You've got two black eyes!"

"That's nothing," he replied. "I could have got plenty more, only I had no place to put them."

Pleasant.

Strange Guest—I don't know half the people in the room. Just look at that woman over there—the cross eyed, red headed one. And some one told me she was married. Don't you think the fellow was a fool? Other Guest (meekly)—I know he was. I'm him.—Baltimore American.

Talked Too Much.

Wife (reproachfully) — You forget how you once breathed your love in my ear and promised that my every wish should be gratified. Hub—No, I don't, but I wish now I'd followed the hygienic rule of keeping my mouth shut while breathing.—Boston Transcript.

The Professional View.

An English physician of whom many stories are in circulation may not be as unsympathetic as a recent anecdote seems to make him. He is a specialist on all sorts of mental disturbances and the fits, spasms and convulsions which sometimes accompany them. One of his patients, a most excitable person, if suddenly alarmed or distressed, would fall into a curious comatose state from which she could not be roused until the effect of the shock had passed. The physician had been summoned again and again, but it always happened that he was away from home at the time, and before he arrived on the scene of action the patient had recovered. At last one night he was summoned and arrived at the house while the woman was still unconscious. He hurried upstairs and into the room where she was lying on the couch. He looked at her, and an expression of interest overspread his face.

"Now, this," he said in his most cheerful tone "this is something like!"
